

September 2026 Chiefs Report

- Calls YTD-52 EMS-36 FIRE-16 Non-Emergent Calls- 58
- Closing on Chiefs Quarters happened and of course it wouldn't be a true deal I was involved in without some last-minute shenanigans but it all worked out in the end and I can't thank Bill enough for all the hard work analyzing the paperwork from lawyers and bankers. They of course try and include taxes I questioned but before I could ask Bill was on it. 55 lawyers 15 bankers 1 middle man and Bill and I trying to protect the district the best we can.
- The Bushhog and Quick Connect has been delivered and installed on our tractor. Turns out we may have an issue with the tractor which is under warranty. The bushhog is not getting up to full RPM and that of course is a PTO issue so it would directly affect our PTO pump Jeff and Tony are both dealing with Creel to remedy the situation.
- We installed an OSHA Eye wash sink on the west side of building something that was outlined in our state investigation. I have a few more things we need to get but minor. These are things that were always supposed to be present that I do not ever recall having present in the 20 years I have been employed here.
- We will be selling Breast Cancer Awareness and Prostate Awareness shirts please pass the word they will be linked on our FaceBook page. If you want to promote them or share them, I would appreciate it.
- I am looking at taking a train trip with my 95-year-old grandpa in the near future Ohio to the West Coast and back he just wants to ride the rails. Once I figure out the actual trip, I will let the board know.
- All trucks and side by sides are operating as they should thanks to the constant maintenance of Tony and the on-shift guys. We are doing everything possible to keep everything operational.
- We will be looking at purchasing roughly 800' of 3" hose this will be for the PTO pump and will allow for some extra hose. As it stands now, we have zero hose in surplus which I am not opposed to but a few hundred feet of each would be ideal incase we have some that do not pass hose testing each year.
- We also need to purchase a dual 3" intake for E191 which I will be looking into what will be best for our saltwater harsh conditions obviously nothing is saltwater proof but I would like to get something that would be saltwater resistant. Like the other items I purchase.

- We will begin training shortly on PTO pump but need to get the PTO on tractor worked out. Always something.
- Over the next month we will create an area at the Chiefs Quarters that will be able to store the extra tractor accessories and clear a spot for the units to be staged in case of a storm. Hodge Podge will need to be addressed with the trees encroaching on the pathway. We also have some debris that does impact the pathway at times.
